GOLF.

Thomas had a 2 on the 150-yard eighth hole, which, to prove the glorious uncertainties of the game, cost him a 7 on the next round.

Although there was no prize up, D. P. Kingsley and W. R. Thurston had a desperate fight for the gross score honors. Iney tied at 89 in the morning, Kingsley getting an 86 to Thurston's 87 in the afternoon. The

In the sweepstakes handicap of the after-noon at St. Andrews the pool amounted to six dozen golf balls and there was a tie bet-tween D. P. Kingsley, 86, 3-83, and Henry A James, 101, 18-83.

Mrs. Sanford and Miss Bishop both made the score of 97 in the quelifying round, both going out in 49 and home in 48.

In the first round for the championship cup this afternoon Mrs. Polhemus played Miss Elsie Trowbridge of this city, taking the match by 3 up and 2 to play. Miss Pauline Mackay of the Oakley Country Club, Boston, qualified for the championship contest, but was defeated in the first round by Miss Gertrude Travers of the Nassau Club, 4 up and 3 to play. Miss Mackay in the qualifying round went out in 48 and came in in 49, finishing with a total score of 97, while Miss Travers's total score was 99 in that round, 50 out and 49 in. Mrs. S. F. Lefferts of Englewood and Mrs. A. H. Harris of Apawamis were the only other players qualifying for the championship.

"The letter which Mr. James E. Sullivan has written in criticism of the eligibility rule recently adopted by the Harvard athletic committee will probably receive considerable attention on account of the prominent position which Mr. Sullivan holds in a number of American athletic organizations. There is little doubt, however, that the position taken by the athletic committee will be approved by the great body of Harvard graduates and by college men generally.

PASTEST MILE IN HARNESS.

DAN PATCH PACES IN 1:56 AT MEMPHIS.

Three Pacemakers and a Dust Shield -Major Delmar Beats Maud S.'s Trotting Record to High Wheeled lulky, Going in 2:07-Geers Hurt. MEMPHIS. Oct. 28 .- Dan Patch paced a mile in 1:56 here to-day, the fastest time ever made by a harness horse, and Major Delmar trotted a mile to a high wheeled sulky in 2:07, which breaks the world's record, made by Maud S. just twenty years ago. It was the last day of the local meeting and the last day of the Grand Circuit of 1904; and the two wonderful performances were fitting climaxes to a great meeting and a sensational season.

The showing of Dan Patch astounded the spectators. Two months ago he was at the point of death. To-day he travelled faster than any harness horse ever went. It is true that he was paced by a runner in front with a dust shield, but even at that the performance was a great one.

Shortly before sunset Savage's pacer came out for his trial against time. He was down on the programme only to beat 2:00%, his best time this year, but it was evident that he was going to be extended to the limit in his attempt to lower a world's

Three pacemakers were used in the performance. One runner, driven by Scott Hudson, went in front all the way, and on Hudson's sulky was a dust shield. The shield was made of a light piece of canvas, and it extended from wheel to wheel and from the seat of the sulky down nearly to the ground.

After scoring once the pacer got the word, and with a pacemaker in front and one beside him he shot from the mark. He did not seem to gain full headway until he reached the first turn, but he rounded this at terrific speed, and it could rounded this at terrific speed, and it could be seen that the pacemakers were doing their best to stay in front of him.

It took the great son of Joe Patchen exactly 29 seconds to reach the quarter pole, and he passed it like a flash and wa away for the second turn and the half mile pole. Coming down the backstretch, Hudson urged the pacemaker to his best efforts, and Dan Patch looked like a streak of brown against the background of green. of brown against the background of green. The second quarter was the fastest of the

The second quarter was the fastest of the four and was covered in 28½ seconds.

At the half mile pole a third pacemaker joined the pair, and all three horses swert around the far turn, still at a wonderful rate of speed. On to the three quarters pole the horses went, and Dan Patch showed not the least sign of tiring. But he was apparently wearied as he rounded the last turn and headed into the homestretch for the final effort.

It was an imposing sight as the three pacemakers and the pacer swept down the stretch. The king of light harness horses was tiring fast, but he displayed remarkable gameness and there was never a waver. The clip of the last quarter was 20½ seconds and for the whole mile 1:56.

Driver Hersey, who handled the pacer in his record breaking mile, was weighed in after the trial and tipped the scales at more than the required 150 pounds. In speaking of the work of the horse, which has been under his care this summer, he said:

"I believe that he could have done even

"I believe that he could have done even better. I put it up to Scott Hudson, who was handling the pacemaker, and he used his own judgment. That it was good judgment is pretty evident, but Dan might have gone a shade faster."

M. W. Savage, the owner of the horse, said: "I do not believe any one could realize what a great exhibition this was unless he had seen Dan Patch when he was at the point of death only a few weeks ago. And now he has broken the record again. A man could not carry the money to buy that horse to-day. He is the greatest animal that ever lived, and he can do better later on. He almost ran over the pacemaker two or three times during the mile."

The exhibition of Major Delmar, E. E. Smathers's gelding, was almost as re-

Smathers's gelding, was almost as re-markable. Alta McDonald and Major Del-mar upset all calculations. With a pace-maker beside him, the greatest of geldings maker beside him, the greatest of geldings soored a few times and then went away at the word. The first quarter was made at a phenomenal pace, being reached in 30½ seconds. Around the second turn and down the back stretch, the big gelding was eased up a trifle, but he reached the half in 1.02¾. Here another pacemaker picked him up and he went on, with never a mistake, around the far turn and to the three-quarter pole, which was passed in 1.34. From that point on it was evident that the record was well beaten, and the great son of Delmar merely breezed down the homestretch and finished the mile in 2:07. the mile in 2:07.

breezed down the homestretch and finished the mile in 2:07.

Ed Geers was badly hurt in an accident. The veteran trainer was working out Jeymaker between the heats of the last race. As he rounded the last turn three of the floats used in keeping the track in order pulled into the rall. Geers tried first to go near the rall, and then seeing that this was impossible, tried to pass between the second and third floats. He collided with one of them and was thrown heavily to the ground. His left leg was broken below the knee and his right ankle sprained.

W. O. Foote, whose driving has been unsatisfactory at the meeting, was suspended to-day for one year by the judges on the charge of not trying to win a heat with Ed. C. and for carrying Tom Akworthy out with Gov. McCauley.

A short meeting will be held on the Memphis track on Nov. 3, 4, 5 and possibly the 7th. Both Lou Dillon and Dan Patch will go against their records at that time and there will be two races each day. The mannaries:

ST. Louis, Oct. 28.—The draws for the final round of the seventh American Chess Congress were played to-day. Uedeman played a queen's gambit against E. Schrader, and the latter's time expired on the forty-fourth move. Judd beat Jaffe in forty moves. The Miotkowsky-Marshall game, a Sicilian, was adjourned with material and position even, and will probably be a draw. The game will not affect the prizes at all.

The first prize of $500 and a gold medal as tournament champion of America goes to Frank J. Marshall of Brocklyn, with eight wins, no losses and one game unfinished, probably a draw. Max Judd of St. Louis wins second prize of $300, with seven won and two lost. L. Uedeman of Chicago gets third prize of $100, having won five games and lost four. Eisenberg of Chicago and E. Schrader of St. Louis divided fifth prize of $50. The score of the others: Jaffe, New York, won 4, lost 5; G. J. Schwietzer, New York, won 2, lost 6, 8. Miotkowsky Philadelphia, won 2,

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR JAMAICA. Ravenswood Handicap for Three-Year-Olds the Feature.

The Ravenswood Handicap, for three-year-olds, at six furiongs, should provide an interesting race at Jamaica this afternoon. Hamburg Belle has top weight, 127 pounds, but Grenade, Rapid Water, Collector Jessup and Orthodox may make it interestin for her, to say nothing of some of the lightweights

A handicap for all ages, at six furlongs, opens the card, Diamond, Crown Prince and Monet possibly receiving the preference over Mamie Worth and Gay Boy. Clover-land will be played to best The Southerner land will be played to beat The Southerner and Midshipman in the second event, at a mile and a quarter. In the third race, for maidens, at a mile and a sixteenth, Rudabek, Spring Silk and Step Away may go, well while in the fifth, for two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs, kitty Platt, Highborn, Flinders, Dazzle and Niblick seem the best.

The last race, at a mile and seventy yards, may turn out to be the most interesting of the day, as Rapid Water, Dolly Spanker, First Mason, Ormonde's Right and Orthodox appear to be well matched under the conditions. The entries are as follows:

TIMELY BOXING TALK.

Young Corbett Has a Hard Task Before Him-"Battling" Nelson's Chances. Young Corbett's doings in the prizering during the next four months will receive considerable attention. The Denver man has planned a busy fistic campaign, and if he carries out his battles to a successful issue he will have won the right to be classed as an exceptionally great fighter. Corbett has arranged three contests. The first is to be with "Battling" Nelson and takes place at is carded to box Terry McGovern six rounds at Philadelphia, and last but not least he is to have it out with Jabez White, the champion lightweight of England. These scrappers have been tested for their ability and are pugilists to recken with. Nelson is a fighter in every sense of the word. Although his career with the gloves began only a few years ago, his performances have been up to championship form. Nelson cannot be said to be a finished boxer as yet. He is a natural born fighter, one who possesses grit and sturdiness to a large degree and who is improving his art every day. To conquer him Corbett will have to utilize all the skill at his command and be in faultless condition. Nelson never permits any of the rounds to flag, invariably cutting out the pace, Nelson has two powerful hands. He keeps them in motion continuously, ever on the alert to let them rest on a spot where they will do the most damage. He is crafty, strong and as plucky as a young gamecock. He is just the kind of a fighter to beat Corbett, who is in his element when the gruelling is at its height. Nelson has lived up to his sobriquet of "Battling" time and. again, and if calculations are not amiss he will do so when he faces Corbett. One thing about Nelson is that you never know when you have him whipped. He can take a licking about Nelson is that you never know when you have him whipped. He can take a licking that would unnerve a warrior and then come back like a demon. Look at his contests with Martin Canole and Eddie Hanlon, fighters who simply revel in punishment. After these scrappers had beaten Nelson almost to a standstill, the Dane pounced upon his rivals and whipped them into insensibility.

As for Corbett's mill with McGovern, It is too short to be of real importance. But McGovern is coming to the fore again, at least his quick victory over Eddie Hanlon demonstrated this. But Corbett has laid Terry low on two occasions and there is no reason why he should not repeat the third time. But McGovern is just the kind of a fighter who is liable to upset predictions of this sort. When he is in the humor he is fast as chain lighting and a tough proposition in the ring. He says that he never felt better than he does now. He is muscular and quick, and his blows seem to be as heavy as of yore. But McGovern's friends fear that Terry's eyesight may desert him. Some time ago he was forced to wear eye glasses. He says that they were not used chiefy for his sight, but to cure continual headaches from which he suffers. Poor eyesight in the ring is a handicap, and a fighter must be exceptionally fast to awoid a swing or hook under these conditions. McGovern regards Corbett as his nemesis. He thinks he can whip any other man with ease outside of Corbett. This is only natural for the Westerner was the only man who ever succeeded in knocking Terry out.

Regarding Corbett's essay with White but little is known over here of the Englishman. He may prove another Bowker or Ben Jordan or he may not. Those in a position to know, however, speak in glowing terms of his chances to whip Corbett. They contend that the Denver fighter is just the sort of a puglilist White can conquer. Corbett is a rusher. So is White, but the latter couples solence with these tactics. Of course Corbett is scientific in a way, but in his aggressive moments he is likely to thro that would unnerve a warrior and then come

REVEILLE PUZZLES TALENT.

AS AN ODDS ON FAVORITE HE IS BADLY BEATEN.

Coy Maid and Major Daingerfield, From the Same Barn, Win at Liberal Odds -Hildebrand Rides the Winners in Three Races at the Jamaica Track. The horses from the Miller-Leeds stable, trained by Tom Welsh and ridden by Hilde-brand, were the chief factors in the racing at Jamaica yesterday. Reveille, an over-whelming favorite, at 4 to 5, carrying Andrew Miller's colors, was disgracefully beaten, while Mr. Miller's Coy Maid, 6 to 1, and Mr. Leed's Major Daingerfield, hammered down to 16 to 5, were victorious.

Reveille always has been a puzzle to bettors. If not left at the post when a favorite he generally has performed badly, whereas it has been one of the fateful incidents of racing that he has won at good odds. Some persons have attributed his defeats to a sour temper, while others have blamed the jockeys who have attempted to guide him to the front. But when he went down to de-feat in the third race yesterday, at a mile and a sixteenth, the talent was at a loss to find an excuse.

In his previous race Reveille would surely have besten Champlain, the winner, if Hilde-brand had not lost his whip. That made Reveille look like a cinch for yesterday's affair, and it seemed as if everybody who is anybody at the track bet on him. Hildebrand got him away from the post finely, but the colt had no speed, and even though his rider went to the whip he could not get within hailing distance of Sais, 7 to 2, the winner, who had a length to spare, with Akela, 8 to 1, ticking the place by a similar margin from Dimple, 6 to 1. The time was 1:49.

Coy Maid, on the other hand, won the Packer Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, in impressive style. The distance was five and a half furlongs, and the Kingston filly had to run around the two choices, Czaraphine and Thirty Third, after being knocked back on the turn, to win by three lengths, under a pull from Hildebrand. Czaraphine, 11 to 10, got the place by three parts of a length from Thirty Third, $ to 5. The time was 1:07.

Major Daingerfield, hammered down to 16 to 5 from 4 to 1 by a flood of smart money, came to life in the handicap for all ages at a mile and a sixteenth. New York, 4 to 1, led all the way to the homestretch, where Hildebrand let the Major down, and he won by two lengths in 1:48. High Chancellor, the receding favorite, was bumped at the start, but ran third, six lengths back.
Hildebrand also rode another winner,

Ocean Tide, 6 to 5 favorite, in the fifth race, at a mile and seventy yards. Two long shots, King Pepper and Thistle Heather, raced in front clear in to the stretch, where Ocean Tide ran over them and beat King Pepper by two lengths in 1:45 3-5, the latter rimming Thistle Heather by a head. Ed Heffner's Foxy, 13 to 5 favorite, made all the pace in the second race, for maiden two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs, winning in a romp by six lengths.

Fleur, 12 to 1, came from nowhere in the last furlong and nipped the place from Yorkshire Lad, 6 to 1, by a head. The time was L. V. Bell's Emergency, 2 to 1 favorite; secured the first race, for three-year-olds, at six furlongs. He was driven to beat Audi-tor, 6 to 1, by three parts of a length. Frank

Farrell's Juvenal Maxim, 10 to 1, was third, three lengths away. The race was run in 1:13 1-5. Three favorites won in the presence of 8,000 spectators. PIRST BACK

But at that most of them lost on the day's proceedings, as all of the winners were played, particularly Emergency, Major Daingerfield, Ocean Tide and Foxy. It has been such a hard game for the pencil-lers lately that nearly all of them are inclined to be panic stricken when a plunge comes their way. One of the best known members of the "Mets," a man who usually takes no chances, had up 6 to 1 against Coy Maid in the fourth race, when a stranger bet him $10. The wager was accepted, but quick as a flash the layer rubbed to 5 to 1. A few of the ciever-

Boston, Oct. 28.—A professional golf match at thirty-six holes for a purse of $100 between Alexander Campbell, the Country Club professional, and Matt Campbell, his brother, gainst John Jones, the Myopia professional, and Donald Ball of Apawanis was played at the Country Club links to-day.

Rain prevented the men from playing their best game, but Alexander Campbell did some brilliant work going out in the morning round in 35. two under boggy. The their best game, but Alexander Campbell did some brilliant work going out in the morning round in 35, two under bogey. The homeward journey was made in 41. Matt got two 39s in his morning round, making the total of the pair 154. Ball and Jones were not as familiar with the course, their individual scores for eighteen holes being s8 and 82 respectively, total for the pair 170, giving the Campbells a lead of sixteen stroker.

The conditions for the afternoon round were much worse, owing to the wind, but "the Nipper" went around in 81 and Matt in 80, making thei individual medal score for thirty-six holes 157 and 158 respectively; team total, 315. Ball took 87 for his afternoon round and Jones 79, making their scores for thirty-six holes 175 and 161 respectively; team total, 336. A comparison of match scores shows that the Campbells were thirteen holes up on their opponents.

Open events at the Country Club of Lakewood begin on election day with a special eighteen hole handicap, with three prizes. The course is in ideal condition except the second green, which has suffered from an invasion of crab grass, but it is fast being brought into as good shape as the lateness of the season permits. On Nov. 12 the Country Club links will be the scene of the first State open championship ever held in this country. The prize money, $300, has been subscribed by five New Jersey clubs, and the contest will bring together professionals from all the clubs in that State, including Atlantic City and Cape May. On the eligible list are Will Norton, George Low, Will Smith, Maurice McCarthy, John Hobens, Tom Anderson, Aleck Findiay, Dave Hunter, Pearson, Jack Mackie, Wille Wier, Pye, D. Patrick, Pierie, John Young, Jolly, Peebles, D. Honeyman and others. and the West Point Polo Club, played yesterday at West Point, the visitors won by 15 goals to 1. The Squadron team also won the match last year at Van Cortlandt and the year before at West Point. The Armymen used the lot of Western pomies furnished this spring by the Government, and, while many of the mounts possessed speed, they were somewhat ragged as a whole and through the short training in the game a decided handicap on the team. The Squadron brought up fourteen ponies and had a great advantage in the quality of the mounts. The teams were:

All the cadets and the society of the Point made an enthusiastic body of spectators, although they had but one chance to break out, which was when Lieut. Col. Treat made his goal. The onlookers filled the stand put up for the football game, and the mild applause was in great contrast to the tumultuous outbreaks when the cadets downed Yale last Saturday. Lieut. Col. Treat was on Dick, his own pony, when he scored. It was in the first period, after Capt. Macdonald and Capt. Bowley had helped to get up the ball for him.

The squadron gathered up six goals in the first, five in the second and two in each of the other periods. All did good teamwork, the goal getting being left to Goldsborough, who made 10 of the counts. Capt. Marshall was referee and Lieut. Whitlook timer.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION BUSINESS P. T. Powers Reelected President and Committees Appointed.

that the position taken by the athletic committee will be approved by the great body of Harvard graduates and by college men generally.

It is absurd that a boy less than nineteen years old, because he may have received some small sum for playing on a baseball nine before he went to college, must be forever debarred from taking part in intercollegiate athletics. There may be circumstances which should prevent him from playing on a college team, but in the great majority of cases he is not a professional in the real meaning of the word, even if he has technically made himself one. Under the new rule the athletic committee rightly reserves the right to decide each case as it comes up.

"Practically the same conditions exist in the grad to summer baseball. It is a distinct hardship to say that a college undergraduate must not play on any summer nine. Such a provision makes many college men lose a good deal of harmless fun during the long summer vacation, and however serious college athletica themselves have become they should not deprive those who participate in them from all other enjoyments of a similar kind. What is more reasonable than that in both these cases the matter should be left to the judgment of a body which is certain to be conservative and at the same time to exercise common sense?

"Those people who are harping about professionals and amateurs should understand that Harvard is not attempting to define these terms, but that she does mean to decide what men shall represent her in athletic exhibitions and contests which are not already covered by intercellegiate agreements." The second day's session of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues in this city yesterday was devoted princi-pally to the election of officers and the ap-pointment of committees. P. T. Powers was pally to the election of officers and the appointment of committees. P. T. Powers was reelected president and J. H. Farrell was reelected secretary and treasurer. The most important committee of the association, the board of arbitratioa, was chosen as follows: Eugene F. Bert, San Francisco; J. H. Murnane, Boston; W. M. Kavanagh, Little Rock; H. C. Griffiths, Jersey City; George Tebeau Louisville; and J. F. Farrell, secretary, President Powers, appointed the following committee on revision of the constitution and amendments to the national agreement, the committee to report to-day; Murnane, chairman; O'Rourke, Bridgeport; Griffiths, Wheatley of Greenville, Miss., Holland of the New York State League, Boyer of the South Atlantic League and Kuntzsch of Syracuse.

It is the opinion of the national association that the minor league organization should be a more independent body in its relations with the major eagues, and the questions at issue will be brought before the National Commission when the latter meets in Cincinnati next January.

The following committee was appointed to select a place for the next annual meeting of the national association: Thomas F. Burns, Colorado Springs, M. F. Sexton, Rock Island; Edward Hanlon, Baltimore, and J. F. O'Rourke, Bridgeport, It is likely that Denver will be the place chosen. The delegates last night attended a banquet given by President Powers in the Victoria Hotel.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD. Improvement, With Better Defence, at

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 26.—The Tigers practised behind closed gates again to-day. The team is showing steady improvement, and the coaches feel that every man will be in the best of condition for the game with Cornell next Saturday. Burke, who has been out of the scrimmage with a lame back who has since the Annapolis game, was out to-day.

The most encouraging feature of the work of the last day or two is the gradual strengthening of the defence. The line has been slowly stiffening up in this particular, and the ends now play a much better game than a week ago. As for the offence, the Tigers feel that they will be well matched with the Ithacans in this respect. Cornell's defence has, like that of the Tigers, been causing the coaches worry, and with the strong, aggressive work which characterizes Princeton's playing the Orange and Black eleven ought to be able to make short work of Cornell's defence. What Cornell will in turn do with Princeton's defence is the burning question with the Tigers. The team will leave here to-morrow night and go direct to Geneva.

where they will remain Friday night, going to Ithaca on Saturday.

Princeton.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26.—Things looked up a bit with the Harvard football squad to-day. The 'varsity showed a little improvement in its offensive work, while the defence was a stone wall. The second eleven, of the 'Mets,' a man who usually takes ho chances, had up 6 to 1 against Coy Maid in the fourth race, when a stranger bet him $10. The wager was accepted, but quick as a flash the layer rubbed to 5 to 1. A few of the cieverest horsemen in the East are not betting at all. John E. Madden surprised people by sending his commissioner into the ring to bet $10 on Palette a pace in the first race.

The biggest election wager recorded in the course of the day was $3,500 even on the Governorship, James Kane of Brooklyn taking the Herrick end and Bookmaker Billy Connor holding the stakes.

A few days ago U. Z. De Arman claimed Sais out of a selling race much to the surprise of James Blute, the owner of the colt, who had been a consistent winner for him. Blute tried to buy Sais back before the races yesterday and offered $2,400 for him. De Arman wanted $2,700, and the deal was declared off temporarily. When Sais won the third race, for which he was entered to be sold for $2,000, Blute bid $2,400 and De Arman let the colt go back to his former owner.

Frank Farrell was again absent from the track, and two of his horses, Juvenal Maxim, 10 to 1, and King Pepper, 15 to 1, finnshed in the money, both apparently unbacked by the stable.

When Ocean Tide wan the fifth race she however, was weaker than usual, and that in a measure accounts for the better show-and put to learning the 'varsity signals.

New Haven, Oct. 26.—The college team found weak spots in the Yale 'varsity team in practice to-day and made several gains on end runs. When the college squad bucked up against the 'varsity in line plays, however, they found they could not fight against the 'varsity team. The coaches believe that with the hard practice they have given the team this week there will be a noticeable lack of fumbling on Yale's part the rest of the season, as the men realize now that to drop the bail may mean getting off the eleven. The practice was stiff to-day, but the coaches will be in good shape to put up the strongest game of the season next Saturday. The coaches tried Hutchinson on end plays to-day, and he made a good showing in getting away from the tackles and following the interference. Hoyt, the distance punter, and veeder, who seems to have the better control in kicking, were tried on the 'varsity and college elevens. McCoy and Owsley are both scheduled to go in at full back in the Columbia game, while Rockwell and Hutchinson also will be in that game. Several of the first substitutes will get a chance to show their mettle then, as Yale expects to play upward of eighteen men in that contest.

N. J. after a long illness. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

Green B. Morris will take High Chancellor and other horses to San Francisco next Monday.

Starter Fitzgerald suspended Jockey Borel for the rest of the meeting because of incompetence and also suspended E. Waish and W. Davis for two days.

There was an attempted coup with L. Kline's Snow King in the second race. The Sandrigham two-year-old had been burning up the track in his work and was backed down from 15 to 1 to fives, but he finished next to last.

Backers of H. M. Zie gler's Yorkshire Lad were inclined to criticize Redfern for careless riding when Golddeur nipped the place from him, but Redfern's mount was very tired.

In spite of the fact that Atwood bled in his two previous races, C. A. Alnwick and his friends tried to win again with him in the opening event and backed him from 12 to 1 to sixes. This time he did not bleed, but he could not finish in the money.

Dave Johnson seems unable to win a race with the former Drake horses now carrying his colors. He bet on I Liberia in the first race to the extent of a solid wager, but the filly had nothing of the speed developed not so very long ago by Fnook Wishard. Rob Roy in the same race was heavily played for the place by Joe Yeager and his followers, while Aulitor was taken to win at sixes.

Eddie Burke burned up some more of his good money with Metropole in the second race. This colt has been a big disappointment to his owner all the year.

Columbia freshmen scored an easy victory yesterday on South Field over the eleven of De La Salle Institute. The '08 team succeeded in rolling up 26 points against 5 for their opponents, whose touchdown was the result of a fumbled pass behind the goal line by Beekman. The De La Salle team, although considerably heavier, failed to gain effectively. Amazega, the schoolbow quarter back, made several long runs. His work and that of Eddie Thorp, a brother of Columbia's varsity right tackle, was the principal factor in the showing made by the De La Salle eleven. Hanna, quarter back, and captain of the freshman eleven, played his usual brilliant game, carrying the ball on four long runs for an average distance for forty yards. Columbia tallied 21 points in the first half. In the latter part of the second half Amazega tried a goal from the field. Hanna recovered the ball for the freshmen on the 5 yard line. Beekman, standing behind his own goal line, muffed the pass for a kick and R. Hogden fell on the leather for a touchdown for De La Salle. J. Hogden, De La Salle's right guard, broke his collar-bone in a scrimmage.

ITRACA. N. Y., Oct. 26.—Coach Warner spent all of this afternoon trying to put the Cornell eleven together in the best possible manner. The only players who are fixed in their positions are Wilder at centre, Capt. Lynah at quarter back and Rice at left half back. To-day Van Orman and Forgy played the ends. Cook and Costello the tackles. Furman right guard, Downes and Oderkirk left guard, Halliday full back and Martinez right half back. Oderkirk is an end who was tried at guard for the first time to-day. Martinez, who had the call on the right half back position to-day, is a Mexican who has been playing on the scrubs all season. Much attention was given to-day to kicking, for with Birmingham gone Cornell will be particularly weak in this department. All of the men on the team were allowed to try

The Colgate University football team has shown itself to be a pretty husky proposition this fall and is making a good record of points scored. The record to date is: Colgate, 17s, opponents, 23, the only defeat being at the hands of Cornell, and since that early period in the season the Colgate eleven has kept pace with others in improvement. Six of the twenty-three points made by Colgate so opponents were due to a touchdown by the Alfred team. The latter was beaten badly, Colgate making 78 points, and the odd part of it is that a team should score at all when so greatly outclassed. Colgate had in a second set of substitutes when the Alfred scoring was done, and the substitutes were caught napping, an experience which the Yale substitutes underwent in the Syracuse game. Next Saurday Colgate plays Rochester, and the interior of the State awaits the outcome with breathless interest.

F. L. Ackley, manager of the Syracuse University team, wants a date for next Satur-day with some college eleven.

University team, wants a date for next saturday with some college eleven.

A close fight is being waged for several positions on the New York University team. The men who will fill the end positions and right tackle are very doubtful, and next saturday's game will determine to a large extent the line-up for the remainder of the season. All the late arrivals are doing good work and have stirred up the men who considered they had their places cinched to greater efforts. Connell and Daly were both very much in evidence at the wing positions yesterday. The former is rapidly rounding into the form he displayed last year, and looks to be the logical man for right end. The fight for right tackle has narrowed down to Reynolds and Halford, and Reynolds's superior condition will probably enable him to hold the position. Reese, a law school man, received considerable coaching in punting yesterday and the form he displayed should make him a valuable second string man for the back field. Although there was a high wind blowing the 'varsity backs handled the punts better than they have done before this week. The sgrub gave the 'varsity a hard tussle and scored for the second time this season. P. Hulsart, at left half on the second team, made a pretty 'varsity for a touchdown. With the exception of this play the 'varsity's defence was the strongest of the season.

The Seton Hall College team is hopeful since the Orange A. C. game of rolling up a big score against Delaware College next Saturday. The work of Coaches Mulcahy and Kinkead told in last Saturday's game, as the team work of the Seton Hall nen against Orange was excellent. The following games have been played so far this season: Seton Hall 12, Pratt Institute 7; Seton Hall 8, Fordham 0; Seton Hall 31, Orange A. C. 4. Seton Hall has not been beaten in football since 1901, and the team feels confident that despite the heavy schedule which still remains unplayed it will close this year also with a clean record.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 28.—Brown defeated Bowdoin here this afternoon on a slippery and muddy field by a score of 22 to 0. Brown had the ball most of the time, breaking through Bowdoin's line at will for large gains Fumbling by Brown played a part and was responsible for Bowdoin's largest gains. McGraw made several fine quarterback runs for Bowdoin. Brown found Bowdoin's line from tackle to tackle and also had little trouble rounding her ends for substantial gains. In the greater part of the second half Brown played a second team with the exception of four men. Higgins, Ross and Cobb played well for Brown and McGraw and Speale did the best work for Bowdoin.
